

Today's early childhood leaders are experiencing unprecedented challenges. The need to balance boundaries with compassion is critical to establish and maintain a positive, flourishing climate in your program. In this series we will build capacity for self-awareness, self-compassion and selflessness which will serve as the foundation for a leadership approach that will inspire the humanness in your organization.

Audience: Early Childhood Directors

Benefits:

- Improve your ability for focus and presence
- Build your capacity for resilience and calm
- Identify strategies to foster a climate of trust and belonging in your organization
- Connect with your purpose as a leader
